KEY WEST, Fla., Feb. 18.—Just before cruising out to join the American battle fleet, President Roosevelt this afternoon served notice on "all the world that in the western hemisphere—in the three Americas—the institutions of democracy—government with the consent of the governed—must and shall be maintained."

"Lift democracy high above the ugly turbulence of autocracy," he asked the nations of the new world—and he pointedly suggested that all nations "heed the ancient scriptural admonition not to move our neighbor's landmarks, not to encroach on his metes and bounds."

Two Brief Addresses
The president's challenging words were carried out of this southernmost town by radio in two brief but pungent addresses, the first to formally open the San Francisco Golden Gate Exposition and the second to the Pan American Hernando De Soto Exposition at Tampa, Fla.

PA NEW OBSERVES

Some "Gobs" were flying distress signals, this morning, this time on land. They belonged to the U. S. S. Phoenix, and were going home on furlough to Detroit, and thereabouts. They were held up out on East Washington street, having to change a wheel of their automobile, having damaged a rim.

Because of the weight of the train 100 cars, Erie R. R. engine 3185 was obliged to cut the train just north of the city today. Half of it was hauled to the point where the grade levels off near the Water Works siding. The engine returned and brought the other half up and then proceeded. It looks good to see large freight trains in operation.

In the minds of many people there seems to be some question as to how to proceed in case of emergency. Oftentimes where a man has been severely injured people at the scene call the officers, sometimes call a doctor, but seldom seem to remember to call an ambulance. The first thing to do is call an ambulance. Then call the authorities.

With another change in weather conditions last night, the streets were again exceptionally slippery and the ashing crews had to devote some attention to some of them.

Daily Weather Report

United States weather statistics for the 24-hour period ending at 5 p. m. Friday are as follows:
Maximum temperature, 38.
Minimum temperature, 11.
Precipitation, .05 inches, rain and snow.
River stage, 8 feet.

Statistics for the same date a year ago, follow:
Maximum temperature, 53.
Minimum temperature, 35.
Precipitation, .03 inches.

Gamblers And Hold-Up Gang In Pitched Battle

(International News Service)
MALDEN, Mass., Feb. 18.—One man was shot to death and another was probably fatally wounded early today when a gang of holdup men raided a gambling den in a rooming house cellar and engaged in a pitched battle with 15 to 20 players.

Immediately after the reeking gun-smoke had cleared away, police who had rushed to the scene found the body of John W. Wheelock, 40, in the cellar. The wounded man was Patrick J. Flynn, 40, an ex-pugilist who was dumped from an automobile onto the steps of the Malden hospital.

Several hours later, four men were rounded up by police. All were being grilled by detectives seeking a clear picture of what occurred in the subterranean gaming house.

Declares People Alarmed At Use Of Federal Funds For Political Purposes

By ROBERT A. MCGILL

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—Declaring the public is "alarmed" over use of government funds for political purposes, Senator Hatch (D) New Mexico, today urged prompt senate consideration of bills insulating expenditures against all political opportunities.

Chairman of a senate privileges and elections subcommittee, Hatch summoned members for a meeting Tuesday to consider four bills. They are expected to form a basis for permanent legislation to divorce politics from relief and other expenditures, and to revise election laws.

Stressing the need for a permanent program, Hatch, chiefly responsible for prohibitions against the use of present relief funds for political purposes, said:

"There isn't any question but what the public generally is more or less alarmed at the possibility of using vast sums appropriated from the treasury for so-called political purposes."

"Strong permanent laws prohibiting such uses will allay that feeling and will, of course, be beneficial in preventing any misuse of public funds."

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—Blame for the loss of a United Airlines passenger transport off Point Reyes, Calif., on Nov. 29—an accident which resulted in the death of five persons—today was placed on the first pilot and two of the airline's ground dispatchers by the federal air safety board.

CAR SKIDS ON ICY HIGHWAY

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

STROUDSBURG, Pa., Feb. 18.—Three youths were killed and three others were injured seriously today when an automobile collided with a truck on the Lackawanna trail at Delaware Water Gap.

Victims in the worst crash in Monroe county history were identified as:

Conrad Hauser, 21, Union City, N. J., driver of the car, who was killed instantly.

John Malloy, 22, and Anselmo Buzzelli, 22, both of Jersey City, N. J., passengers in the automobile. They died a few minutes after being admitted to General hospital in Stroudsburg.

Fourth May Die

Ralph Inale, 22, of Jersey City, another occupant of the car, received such serious brain and abdominal injuries little hope was held for his recovery. Donald S. Kenny, of New York, operator of the truck, and Oreste Busso, 23, of Union City, also in the automobile, were injured.

State police said Hauser, driving north, lost control of his machine as he rounded a curve at the "point," a spot opposite the Indian head at the Water Gap. His car skidded on the icy roadway.

Although he managed to regain control, the car then skidded on a second patch of ice and crashed into the on-coming truck, police said.

Senators Seek To Learn
If Other Planes Shown
To France And England

By ARTHUR HACHTEN
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—Senators critical of the administration's foreign policy are quietly seeking to learn whether the government has demonstrated for France and England any American fighting planes other than the now-famous Douglas light bomber, it was learned today.

The new inquiry came to light as the official record of the senate military affairs committee, which investigated the "authorization" under which a French air mission was shown the light bomber, was made public.

The whole affair, which spurred senate debate unequalled in ardor since early post-world war days, when U. S. entry into the League of Nations was defeated, developed when one of the Douglas crashed in Los Angeles recently, and a member of the French mission was dragged from the wreckage.

The senators who are pursuing the matter further said they were interested in learning whether other fighting planes, notably up-to-the-minute pursuit ships under development by the army and navy, have been demonstrated to France and England, in line with the administration's avowed policy of strengthening the air might of those nations as a first line of defense against the authoritarian regimes—Italy and Germany.

Vice Clean-Up Demand Follows Student's Death

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Feb. 18.—Authorities of the University of Illinois today flatly demanded a vice cleanup in the college town of Champaign after a university student was slain in front of a notorious resort there.

Spurrier was shot and wounded by a negro woman, a keeper of a shabby hotel, early Thursday. He died in a Champaign hospital yesterday.

Oscar G. Mayer, president of the board of trustees, called the Chicago meeting at the suggestion of president Arthur Cuts of the university. Dr. Cuts and two trustees, Mrs. Glenn Plumb and Dr. Karl A. Meyer were out-poken for their demands of a cleanup in the university town.

TREASURE ISLAND, San Francisco, Feb. 18.—In a riot of noise, ceremony and color, the west's biggest show opened today.

Under perfect skies, more than 200,000 Californians and visitors from all parts of the globe thronged to this man-made island that has risen from San Francisco Bay, for the opening of the Golden Gate International Exposition.

At 10:30 a. m. (PST) Governor Culbert L. Olson was to open a lock in a miniature replica of the Golden Gate bridge, with a $35,000 jeweled key.

California Mops Up After Storm

Three-Day Blow Causes Damage

Most Disastrous Windstorm In History Of Southern California Nears End

TEN THOUSAND TREES REPORTED UPROOTED

(International News Service) LOS ANGELES, Feb. 18.—Southern California began mopping up today after being struck by one of the most disastrous windstorms in its history.

Weather forecasts called for an abatement of the winds today. Highlights of the three-day blow to date were:

One more death, that of Charles Beckley, 70, a Cucamonga citrus grower, electrocuted when he picked up a live power line, brought the toll to three.

Damage By Fire
Windswept flames wrecked several buildings, causing $250,000 damages in a spectacular fire that destroyed a business block in Pasadena.

Three schools in Los Angeles were forced to close due to curtailment of electricity and other utilities.

Shipping along the California coast was disrupted but was believed to have escaped with little damage. An estimated 10,000 trees were reported uprooted throughout southern California, from 2,000 to 2,500 of them in Los Angeles alone.

Plate glass damage may reach huge figures, with virtually every city and town visited by the wind reporting windows shattered.

Citrus crops were damaged from 10 to 25 per cent, mostly by fruit blown from trees, or damaged by being beaten against tree limbs.

Interrupted communication lines were being put back into order rapidly, while air lines and railroads were to go back to normal schedules today.

SAN FRANCISCO FAIR IS OPENED WITH CEREMONY

Governor Olson and other dignitaries, an invocation by San Francisco's Catholic Archbishop John J. Mitty, and a chorus by 500 voices.

After that the World's Fair will be officially on—for 288 days during which Treasure Island, erected in the bay at the center of the San Francisco-Oakland Bay bridge, will be a mecca for millions.

Unprecedented Color

The crowds that overran the island, flocked through the great exhibit halls, jammed the gateway with its 200 concessions, presented a picture of unprecedented color—for practically everyone was dressed in the festive western regalia that has been the order in San Francisco for a week of the pre-fair celebration.

Bearded miners, swaggering cowboys, cowgirls with leather skirts, all with wide western sombreros, made up the crowd that jammed every route to the island.

And the island itself, with towers, groves, and lakes shimmering in the sun, looked almost unreal—like a fairy city from a picture-book—with the modern note of two huge Pan American Clipper planes riding gracefully at anchor in its lagoon.

Planes Zoom Overhead

Small planes zoomed overhead, carrying air-minded visitors who wanted a bird's eye view of the gala opening.

Amazed by San Francisco's turnout for the parade that climaxed the week's festivities last night, exposition officials urged opening day visitors to bring lunches to the world's biggest picnic-ground, for fear the crowd may so far exceed expectations that the island's restaurant facilities will be overtaxed.

The crowd of whooping, singing celebrants that jammed San Francisco's downtown streets last night was the biggest turnout for any parade in the city's history; it even eclipsed the crowds that welcomed San Francisco's soldiers home from the World War. The parade was blocked time and again by the close-packed throng on Market street.

SAYS DEMOCRACY IN ALL AMERICAS TO BE MAINTAINED

grim problem incident to defense of the Panama Canal in particular and the western hemisphere in general.

Stresses "Good Neighbor"

In both of his short radio talks the president stressed the importance of the good neighbor policy, and between the two of them he tersely restated America's foreign policy.

"We desire by every legitimate means to promote freedom in trade and travel and in the exchange of cultural ideas among nations," he asserted in the De Soto exposition talk. "We seek no territorial expansion; we are not covetous of our neighbor's goods; we shall cooperate in every possible honest way forward to limit armaments; we abhor the appeal of physical force except to repulse aggression; but we say to all the world that in the western hemisphere—in the three Americas—the institutions of democracy—government with the consent of the governed—must and shall be maintained."

Concern Of All Americans

A few minutes earlier in talking across the continent to the San Francisco exposition, site of which he noted significantly ultimately would be converted into a great airport vitally needed for Pacific defense, the chief executive stated: "Many times, in the elaboration of what I call the good neighbor policy, I have stressed the point that the maintenance of peace in the western hemisphere must be the concern of all Americans—North Americans, South Americans and Central Americans—for nothing is more true than that we here in the New World carry the hopes of millions of human beings in other less fortunate lands. By setting an example of international solidarity, cooperation, mutual trust and mutual helpfulness, we may keep faith alive in the heart of anxious and troubled humanity, and at the same time, lift democracy high above the ugly truculence of autocracy."

The president further said: "To show our faith in democracy, we have made the policy of the good neighbor the cornerstone of our foreign relations. No other policy would be consistent with our ideas and our ideals. In the fulfillment of this policy we propose to heed the ancient scriptural admonition not to move our neighbor's landmarks, not to encroach on his meates and bounds."

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

FORM OWN FORUM ON CRIME

During the past few years I have conducted many public forums, from coast to coast, on problems of citizenship and the home and family. The subject with which I most usually begin a series of forums is this, "Can we tackle the crime problem in the home?" And whether in New Jersey or California or in cities between, about the same questions are asked or points of view expressed from the participating audience.

It has just occurred to me that you might like to join, at long distance, in one of these forums. You might choose, indeed, to run a forum on this subject in your PTA, club or church, using local talent for leadership.

Now let me present a copy of the statements which appear on a sheet given those who attend this forum with me.

Statement Reads:

I. Crime is definitely on the increase, and it is creeping closer and closer to the crib. Crime doesn't happen at the moment when it seems to happen, being the culmination of habits, attitudes and ideals which have been developing from infancy, perhaps. In the last analysis, crime begins at the crib. The hand, head and heart that bring up the baby condition him toward good citizenship or crime.

II. The causes of crime are very complex.

III. Some casual factors examined.

1. Economic—greatly exaggerated.
2. Foreign-born—As applied to entire country, a myth.
3. Low mentality and mental illness—Also somewhat mythical.
4. Growing interest in things material and declining interest in things not made with hands nor bought with price probably the single leading single cause.
5. Broken homes, relaxing of home loyalties, and scattering of family members also large factors.
6. Relaxing of home restraints in child's early years, related to (4) and (5), probably next to decline in religion as leading cause in crime.

Not For Hunger?

Often I make the statement that very few people steal because they are hungry or otherwise in need. At a recent forum at Santa Ana, California, I was challenged for this statement. Said the objector: "While few steal because of hunger, most steal because they think they need what they steal. Many of us parents have tried to rear our children to be honest but at the same time we have set before them the ideal that success is measured by money. Then we wonder why so many youths grow up to practice in acquisitive crime. Isn't most crime an effort to satisfy a felt need however it has been acquired?"

At a forum about a year ago on the same subject in New Jersey, a participating father said: "In the use of the family income we parents are inclined to spend a very small proportion for things that are most worthwhile—things of beauty, culture and refinement, things that endure. Rather we center our spending on the perishables."

What Noted People Say

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON—Dr. Oswaldo Aranha, Brazilian foreign minister, urging Pan-American collaboration: "The situation in which America finds itself is one of unpreparedness which cannot fail to whet the appetites which are now rampant in the world."

NASHVILLE, Tenn.—Legislator J. W. George successfully arguing against repeal of Tennessee's "Monkey Law": "I don't want my children to be taught something I don't believe. Everybody knows we are descended from Adam and Eve."

NEW YORK—Frank J. Hogan, American Bar Association president, pleading for a balanced federal budget: "It is time for the friends of civil liberty to face the facts that we have already gone a considerable distance down the road and that unless something is done before very long we, too, not from necessity but solely through neglect and mismanagement, may encounter the dangers that arise from a radically depreciated currency and its repercussions."

How old is it? the doctor inquired.
"1895," came the reply.

HINTS AND DINTS

Sun sets tonight 5:30. Sun rises tomorrow 6:48.

Frank Rusetti, of Vicksburg, Mich. paper mill worker, whose father died in Italy recently, leaving him a fortune, says he would not go back to Italy and live for ten million dollars. Liberty means more than money to Frank, and he knows it.

The game of chess, it is stated, is known to have been played more than 3,000 years ago, but not by whom.

WRONG WORLD
Then there is the country lad who came home and told how he had thoroughly explored the New York underworld. Preachers prayed for his salvation and the whole community was pretty much disturbed until they found that he had merely explored the subways and tunnels under the rivers.

A Chicago woman was granted a divorce from her husband, because he used her too frequently as a wrestling partner. She probably expected more out of wedlock than a mere headlock.

And after several calls the doctor remarked: "Your face is still badly swollen but I'm not worried." Whereupon the patient replied: "I don't blame you, Doc. I certainly wouldn't be sorry if your face was badly swollen."

NEEDED SKINNING
Mackerel Mike came up to a sandwich stand and ordered a roast beef one.

After a minute or two he turned to the proprietor.
"Never tasted a sandwich like this before," he remarked. "Loudest taste I ever tasted. Better take it back and give me a good one."

"That wouldn't be so bad if you stopped to take off the cellophane wrapper before you started to eat," observed the sandwich man.

An East Side man of Scotch ancestry, called the doctor over the telephone, and excitedly told him to hurry, that his little child had swallowed a dime.

"How old is it?" the doctor inquired.
"1895," came the reply.

Reader's Question Answered
Dear Miss Markel—When a guest comes late to a party, should he be introduced to the assembled guests or individually?

Answer—To a small bridge party, yes—he should be introduced individually. But at a large gathering it is customary, particularly among young people, to introduce a newcomer to the assembled guests.

TEST OF TRUE LOVE
No sweetheart loving love eternal under a silvery moon ever loved as does an elderly married woman of whom we heard today. It is a well known fact that she adored the man she married and has continued to adore him throughout the years of their life together. Today the woman's daughter told us that her father's false teeth hurt him, and so when he and her mother dine out her mother carries a jewel case in which are the false teeth which she slips to her husband when he needs them, and he slips them back to her when they become painful. That woman loves her husband.

Mrs. Scollap—My husband certainly does enjoy smoking in his den. Does your husband have a den?

Franco's Plans Are Unknown
Washington Is Up In Air Now
Recall Alfonso's Inefficiency

By CHARLES P. STEWART

Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 18.—Our Yankee diplomatic and naval folk are trying to get a line on General Franco, the Spanish rebel leader, who evidently has his country's government clocked to within a second or two of a knockout.

One ordinarily thinks of a rebel chief as a liberal or even an extreme radical, in a state of insurrection against a backward regime.

This time, in Spain, it is different. King Alfonso was an ultra-conservative. He was so much so, and was so incompetent also, that his administration became decidedly rickety. Finally in an effort to stall off revolution, General Primo de Rivera, one of Alfonso's military men (as reactionary as Alfonso himself, but with more ginger), set up a dictatorship. It did not displace Alfonso. It was something like the situation in Italy, where Dictator Mussolini is the recognized boss, with King Victor remaining as a mere figurehead.

It was too late, though. After three or four years the radicals chucked Rivera, plus Alfonso, into the discard and established what they called a republic.

They certainly WERE radicals. I knew Spain very well in later pre-World War days. The then anti-government party was dominated by men who came into power. Anarchists are quite unlike Nazis or Fascists. They often are confused with Communists; as a matter of fact the two philosophies are downright hostile to each other.

Strange as it may seem, the average anarchist has a lovable personality. He tosses explosives rather liberally, but he has high ideals—too high for the world we live in.

His theory is that, if we all were real brethren, we should not need any troublesome, interfering, expensive governments.

Now, when I say that anarchists ran Spain during the post-Alfonso Rivera era I mean just that. Newspaper readers will have noticed that, following the Franco rebels' conquest of Catalonia, their first job has been the "cleaning up of the anarchists." Just so. Anarchists have been pretty thick all over Spain, but in Catalonia, and especially in Barcelona, its provincial capital, they have been as numerous as Tammanyites in Manhattan ever were.

Who Is Franco?

What, then, is Franco's program? He is a conservative rebel against radicalism, certainly. But is he trying simply to get back to rationality? Or is he a tool of Fascism, backed by Nazi-ism?

Undoubtedly he represents a reversion from anarchy—which most of us, tolerant as we may be, regard as too much of a good thing, for the present. Maybe he wants to revert too far, however.

Even Alfonso and Primo de Rivera were not as intolerant as Herr Hitler is. Does Franco want to become a 100 per cent dictator as (Continued on Page Six)

STILL DOING IT

Notwithstanding the financial difficulties of building the railroads of these United States, the railroads go right on. They improve their right of ways; they put upon the rails new beautiful streamlining trains; they speed up the delivery of freight and, strange to say, in the light of that cow shed in the Seventh Ward of New Castle, they build magnificent passenger stations.

They have just about completed one of these stations in Los Angeles, and it's a good thing those song writers who did that train piece about "All Points West" in which the singer is a train announcer, got their opus out of the way before the opening of this Union Passenger Terminal. Their old-fashioned barker is all out of date at that snazzy new "depot." In fact, the announcer will be hidden off somewhere and when he says "Train No. 99 for Reno, Denver and all points east, leaving on track 16 at 8:10—check your babies and your pups and your suitcases," his voice will go floating all over the station via swanky loud-speakers hidden in the wall and operated from a central station. They even go further than this. Instead of having a set of chimes weighing several tons up in the tower, they've got a little gadget not much bigger than an accordion that will play carillons and will ring out through an amplifier as if the sounds were made by Big Ben.

The builders have certainly been patriotic in this $11,000,000 train emporium. They have material in it from forty-eight States. They did have to get a little black marble (Continued on Page Six)

The Great Game Of Politics

House Conference

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13. APPARENTLY the recent "conference" of House Democrats, called by the Administration leaders to "restore harmony" and promote "co-operation" with the White House, completely failed to do either. The overwhelming House vote in favor of the army expansion program does not affect the fact. All the reports agree about that.

HOWEVER, the conference succeeded in one thing—it shed an illuminating light upon the real difference between the House Democrats and Mr. Roosevelt. It can be summed up in a single sentence—they take one view of the election results last fall and he takes another. In the conference every attending member who ran again and won in November was acutely conscious of his greatly reduced majority. Not a few, as one candid fellow admitted, shudderingly recalled squeaking through by the narrowest sort of margin.

A GOOD many of their colleagues of the Senate-fifth Congress were impressively aware because they did not get enough votes—to use the graphic phrase of the precinct executive, they "checked short." The painful discovery was still fresh in their minds that the personal pleas of the President, support of his New Deal policies and the weight of the WPA had not been enough to pull them through. On the contrary, they knew that the only Democratic Senatorial candidates re-elected by heavily increased majorities were those whom the President had desperately tried to defeat because they had opposed his policies. The prize example is Senator Tydings, of Maryland, who is personally, as well as politically, obnoxious to the President—but who was re-elected by a greater margin than his State ever gave any candidate for any office—70,000 more than it gave Mr. Roosevelt himself in 1936.

NOW, being eminently practical in politics and primarily concerned in staying in public life, these facts could not fail to deeply impress Democratic politicians in and out of Congress. To most, they clearly mean that while Mr. Roosevelt may remain a popular personality, the country is tired of his policies, tired of the excessive spending, tired of the little radicals who surround him, filled with distrust of New Deal experimentation, turning strongly toward conservatism. So clear did this seem that there was great confidence right after the election that the President himself would recognize the public feeling and himself incline in that direction.

THE House Democrats very warmly wanted him to because no one is more concerned in party harmony than those who have to run for reelection on a party ticket every two years. Accordingly, there was keen disappointment when, as soon as Congress convened, Mr. Roosevelt's point of view was revealed. He accepted none of the election interpretations of the House members. Instead, he held the New Deal defeats wholly due to "local reasons" and in no way indicative of a lack of support for his policies. Holding this conviction, he proceeded to adopt the weird Exile economics, to advocate more instead of less public spending, to discourage any attempt at economy, to appoint two of the most advanced type of New Dealers to his cabinet, to name a man charged with being a Communist to the Interstate Commerce Commission, to renew the "purge" in an effort to punish the independent Virginia Senators, and finally, in his Jackson Day speech, in effect, to tell Democrats who do not agree with him they had better get out of the party.

THAT sort of stuff was all right politically when the tide was running one way, but it is very poor stuff when it isn't. As one leader said at the conference, "those landslide days are over." The average House Democrat now asks himself, first, how is it possible to cooperate with a President whose idea of cooperation is completely one-sided; and, second, what political nourishment there is in cooperating with him anyhow, when it is clear, first, that the country is no longer with him and, second, that he is nearing the end of his last term.

THE net result of the conference, it seems agreed, will be more independent, not less, upon the part of the Democratic members. The reason is because they believe they are reflecting the sentiment of the people back home. The most recent Gallup poll is strongly confirmatory of that. But it isn't really needed. When any considerable number of Representatives resist pressure from a President of their own party and stop following him (particularly on appropriations), it is an unmistakable indication that they know what they are about politically. Either he is on the way out or the swing is against him. In this case, both these things are true—and there isn't a clear-headed Democrat in Congress who does not know it. Many of them privately say so.

Campaign Will Start On Sunday

"Four Star Increase Campaign" Of Sunday Schools To Be Launched

SIXTY SCHOOLS TO SHARE IN CONTEST

ROBERT M. STRICKLER, JR.

President of the Lawrence County Sabbath School Association who is serving as Chairman of the Pre-Easter Increase Campaign.

Tomorrow is the opening Sunday of the "Four Star Increase Campaign" which continues for eight weeks and closes Easter, and from all indications by the time they all get lined up there will be about sixty Sunday schools participating.

All of the Sunday schools that participated in the Pre-Easter campaign last year which was also sponsored by the Lawrence County Sabbath School Association, have enrolled this year in New Castle, and there will be some additional city schools. As Lawrence county is divided into eight Sunday school districts by the county association, the first district outside of New Castle to enroll 100 per cent was the smallest district in the county, the Plainville district. There are five Sunday schools in this district, and C. H. Plisor, the district president, has furnished these average figures for 1938 which will be taken as a basis. Plainville Pres., 127; Plainville U. P., 75; Mt. Pleasant M. E., 35; Harlanburg Pres., 61; and the Unit Baptist, 84. The other districts of the county that are making good progress are the Wilmington with six Sunday schools already reported in and the balance to be furnished Sunday, Mr. Jackson District that will have at least six Sunday schools entered. Ellwood District that had 10 entered last year and will probably have more this year. Wampum District that had a meeting Thursday night and will be well represented. Slippery Rock and Pulaski Districts that will be reported at an early date.

For a few years the annual statistical reports furnished to the Pennsylvania State Sabbath School Association and the U. S. government from the Sunday schools of Lawrence county, showed a small loss every year. However, it is believed that the turn has been made as last year the Sunday schools of the county showed a slight gain, and the averages of the Sunday schools participating in the Pre-Easter campaign, with but few exceptions, are higher for 1938 than for the calendar year 1937.

The designation for the first Sunday of the campaign is "Young Peoples Day" and for the remaining seven Sundays are as follows, in order: "Adult Day," "Missionary Society Day," "Cradle Roll and Home Department Day," "Old Folks Day," "100 Percent Enrollment Day," "New Member's Day" and Easter Sunday, "Every One Out Day."

The Sunday schools of New Castle will be classified into four groups based on average attendance, and each district will be classified, outside of New Castle, according to district.

There will be separate awards for the different groups which will be presented at the annual Lawrence County Sabbath School Association convention which will be held at the New Wilmington United Presbyterian church, on the Westmont campus, Thursday, June 15, 1939.

Two Youths Held Result Of Fight After Floor Game

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Feb. 18.—Charges of aggravated assault and battery and inciting a riot were made today against two Elizabeth youths, Al Rothey, 23, and Jack Jorgenson, 20, as the result of a WPAAL basketball brawl February 10.

Six persons were injured in the riot, including John Coleman, coach, and Saul Chetlin, English instructor, at East Pittsburgh High school, whose team defeated Elizabeth, 35 to 20.

The game came to a sudden termination in the last quarter, when four East Pittsburgh players were hurt in a fight.

The two young men were released on their own recognizance pending a hearing tonight before Justice of the Peace John S. R. Sharp of East Pittsburgh.

Monday evening at 5:45 o'clock, in The Castleton, New Castle Exchange club members will gather for their weekly dinner meeting.

What's What At A Glance

Hitler?—or, possibly, is he willing to become a dictator who is dictated to by Hitler and Mussolini?

Washington does not know enough about the general to be sure on these points.

It may not be any of our business. Yet it is, indirectly.

Portugal is stirred into the equation. It is just a peewee of a country on the western edge of Spain.

Nevertheless it is extremely totalitarian. It used to be very democratic. It was damed radical when it overthrew King Manuel of a scant generation ago. But today it is a dictatorship—pro-Hitler and pro-Mussolini.

Query: Who cares for all that? Why, Spain and Portugal, as colonial powers, control the South Atlantic west coast opposite to South America's east coast, and are a great deal nearer to it than any of Uncle Sam's ports are to sub-equatorial South America.

Who cares for that, too? Spain and Portugal?

Yeah! But suppose that Spain and Portugal provide jumping-off places from their southwest African shores for German and Italian naval and aerial activities in eastern South America's direction!

It might develop into quite a fret to Uncle Samuel.

Decidedly a Suspect
Thus General Franco has become decidedly a suspect to Yankee diplomacy and naval strategists.

We do not know him at all well. Perhaps he is a democrat—but we are afraid he is not. We have not yet met him sized up in the slightest.

We have not had any relations with him. We have assumed that he is a pure rebel. Now it appears that he is a government.

HIS little government does not greatly signify, but its relationship with OTHER governments is both-ersome.

Push Move For Quarterly Tax Payments Here

A committee from the Review club, consisting of C. C. Coulthard, president; Arthur B. Harris, vice president; and Nathan N. Love, secretary, met in the office of C. C. McKibben, city treasurer to discuss the possibility of having a law enacted, whereby taxpayers of third class cities might have the privilege of paying taxes on a quarterly basis.

Second class cities such as Pittsburgh are now paying their taxes in that manner. It is the belief of the committee that payment of taxes would not be so burdensome if same could be paid on that basis.

Carmi Preston, representative from the city in the house of representatives, has promised to introduce the bill as requested by the Review club, according to reports.

Slashes Wrists This Morning

Apparently suffering from delusions James Robinson of Adella street, Rigby, P. O., about 10:45 today slashed his wrists with a razor. He did not sever any arteries and the physician called said his condition was not serious when he was taken to the New Castle hospital.

Robinson lives alone in a small two room house on Adella street. This morning he came over to the home of a sister, Mrs. Mary Kurtz, on Tempelana avenue, and told a rambling story of some men who had been bothering him charging him with a crime.

He took out the razor from his pocket and slashed both wrists, it is reported. The office of Sheriff M. T. Ingham was called and Deputies Clyde Badger and Paul Stark answered the call. They called an ambulance and the man was taken to the New Castle hospital.

Bumble Bee Prince Should Draw Crowd

Presence Of Tom Williams In Lead Role One Of The Reasons

In itself Rimsky-Korsakoff's "Bumble Bee Prince" is an attraction that merits a crowded house wherever it is presented. But in the presentation in the Benjamin Franklin junior high on February 28th, there is an added reason for a crowd. That reason is Tom Williams, former New Castle man who with his wife appears in the play. Tom Williams could always sing. When he was in New Castle he was probably the best known baritone soloist in the county. Since going to New York City he has improved and for the past several seasons has been the star of Junior Programs, Inc., the organization which presents the plays for children.

While the "Bumble Bee Prince" is designed primarily for children it is real entertainment for adults. It will be presented twice, once in the afternoon for the children and again in the evening for adults and children. It is sponsored by the Lawrence County Parent-Teachers Association.

Dr. Dafoe's Column On The Quintuplets And The Care Of Your Children

Copyright 1938, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

MOTHERS DUTY TO KEEP CHILD FROM SOURCES OF IN- FECTION

Yesterday I told you of a few of the difficulties the country doctor encounters when he goes into a home and finds a baby with pneumonia.

I remember how I used to hate to see the month of March come along for that was the time when pneumonia really got in its worst work. I suppose this is because March has so many violent storms and because changes in temperature are very great. But I think the chief reason is that for the three or four months previous there has been a lack of sunshine. Bodies haven't been getting the vitamins they should from the sun's rays. That is why I counsel everyone to take cod liver oil all winter. I am convinced that if you do this and if you see to it that your baby gets it, the dangers of pneumonia will be greatly reduced.

Since it is obvious that when an infant contracts a common cold that he is in danger of becoming dangerously ill, it is up to you to see to it that he is protected from all infection. Remember that he has to come in contact with a cold in order to catch the infection. So be careful who goes near your child; when colds are prevalent in your neighborhood, keep him away from every visitor you can.

I say this because there are lots of people who are disease carriers. That is, a person may be perfectly well himself, but if he comes from a home where there are colds he is likely to carry the germs with him and to transmit them to your child.

Doctors and nurses themselves aren't free from blame in this regard. In fact, I have known cases where I was sure that a child had been infected with cold by a careless doctor or nurse. For that reason I made it a practice to wear a mask when I went from a sick room to attend a small child. The Quintuplets have always been protected in this way. In fact, the nurses and

I always wear masks when the children aren't well, and we always wear them after we have been out in contact with the outside world and possible sources of infection.

Recently I was asked by letter to give my opinion on the merits of linseed poultices as compared with colds, and as this seems to fit into the present subject of cold I think now is a good time to give it.

I must say that I am entirely in favor of mustard plasters. I think they have it all over the linseed poultice for many reasons. Linseed used to be a very popular remedy. You put the linseed meal in a sack and put it in boiling water. When you thought it was hot enough, you took it out, spread some of it on a cloth, put a cloth over it again and slapped it on the baby's chest.

The trouble was that the poultice was either too hot, or it wasn't hot enough to do any real good. It had to be changed often, and when being changed the baby's chest was often exposed.

Mustard is so much simpler. You just mix up the proper proportions of flour and mustard, with perhaps a little oil, you put it on the baby and leave it until his chest is reddened just enough. Then you remove it altogether or weaken it. Nowadays, too, you can get the mustard poultice already prepared.

Mustard has another advantage in the treatment of babies, for linseed poultices were often so heavy that they weighed down his chest and interfered with his breathing.

Lawrence County Farms And Farmers

D. H. Ricks, Acting County Agent

Fifty pounds of soybean oilmeal is sufficient when a good grade of legume is fed but if the hay is of poor quality or non-leguminous as timothy, it is best to add 100 pounds. It is also advisable to add one pound of steamed bonemeal per 100 pounds of grain if lowgrade hay is fed.

Feed sufficient quantities of the grain mixture to put the animal in good flesh. Three to four quarts daily is usually enough. About a week before freshening, reduce the amount of grain in the ration and feed more of the bulky laxative feeds. Equal parts of ground oats and bran are recommended for this period.

HAY IN THE MOW HELPS KEEP DAIRY BARN DRY

Hay in the mow serves as insulation and helps keep the dairy barn warm. Some farmers have unwittingly been the cause of dampness in their stables by leaving bare spots on the mow floor. This results in a cold ceiling below on which moisture condenses.

It is a good plan to have a covering of at least two feet of hay or straw over a basement dairy stable. If part of the ceiling is below a barn floor which must be kept clear, the insulation can be applied on the under side of the joists.

Ordinary insulating sheeting of five-eighths inch thickness is not sufficient. Better protection will be obtained if either fill insulation is added or two thicknesses of the material used. Materials impregnated with waterproofing withstand the penetration of moisture better and have greater ability to prevent heat passage. Wet insulation gives little protection.

If protection is desired against possible fires, sheet metal can be used for the ceiling and fill insulation placed between it and the floor above. Two thicknesses of flooring with sheet metal between give excellent protection against fire damage.

Ventilation of dairy stables is often poor. Usually the construction of a single flue, floor out-take system with numerous small inlets will solve the problem. Plans for its construction can be obtained at the office of the Agricultural Extension Association, No. 206 Post Office Building, New Castle.

COW TESTING ASSOCIATION ACHIEVEMENTS

Wayne Walker and Frank Wright testers of the Lawrence County Cow Testing association have compiled the following information on Association work for the month of January 1939. There are 422 cows in production during the month and the total number of dry cows was 91. During the period 97 cows had a production record of over 40 pounds of butter fat, and 54 cows produced more than 1,000 pounds of milk. Twenty-seven cows exceeded a production of above 1,200 pounds of milk and 20 cows had a production record of over 50 pounds of butterfat. The Jersey herd of N. E. Thompson, Volant, Pa., showed the highest butterfat production with an average of 40.78 pounds of fat per cow. Lauren Thompson's Jersey herd was second with an average of 35.48 pounds of butterfat, and the Jersey herds of F. W. Byers, Peshuburgh, O., was third with an average production of 35.35 pounds of butterfat.

The Holstein herd of D. S. Kennedy, New Wilmington, Pa., led the Association in milk production, with an average of 76.13 pounds of milk per cow. The herd of N. E. Sampson was second with a production of 75.67 pounds of milk, and the herd of Frank Trueman, Beaver Falls, Pa. was third with a production of 72.28 pounds per cow.

For individual cow production, a Jersey owned by J. C. Shoemaker, Enon Valley, Pa., was first in butterfat, with a record of 92.8 pounds. F. W. Byers was owner of the three cows that were second, third and fourth in butterfat production. These cows produced 79.2, 66.9 and 66.6 pounds butterfat respectively. The fifth high cow was owned by F. E. Sampson with a record of 66.4 pounds butterfat.

day, lends itself to colorful food, attractively served.

"Colorful meals are healthful meals," Miss Julia Markle, home economics extension representative of Lawrence County says. In order to eat a goodly supply of foods containing both minerals and vitamins, we should include plenty of green, yellow and red fruits, and vegetables in our diets.

A colorful meal is pleasing to the eye. Sight and smell together do much to aid good digestion.

Miss Markle offers some suggestions for a simple dinner that is colorful, nutritious and appetizing. To begin the meal, a tasty fruit cup topped with a big red cherry will serve as an appetizing prelude. Follow with the main course of baked ham, scalloped tomatoes, mashed sweet potatoes, lettuce salad with Russian dressing, hot biscuits or rolls, milk for the children and coffee for the grown-ups. A Washington cream pie with cherries on the top is an appropriate dessert. For additional color have red, white and blue mints.

In serving this Washington birthday dinner, set the table with the best china and silverware. Pour red candles may be used on the table in glass candle sticks, or red, white and blue candles may be used effectively.

Favors, if used, may be small candy hatchets or hatchets cut out of cardboard in the National colors. Small branches set in a large black gumdrop with red candles stuck on the branches for cherries also make attractive and inexpensive favors.

ATTRACTIVE TOAST

Remove crusts and butter bread slices lightly on both sides, says Miss Julia Markle, toast them in a hot waffle iron. They come out in a crisp waffle pattern and make an excellent base for creamed dishes, such as creamed chicken, peas or salmon.

GIVE COWS REST PERIOD TO INCREASE PRODUCTION

A cow will produce considerably more milk during her next milking period if she is dried off six to eight weeks before freshening. Leading dairymen give their cows a rest to get them in condition for the next lactation period.

During the high production cows frequently secrete more nutrients in their milk than they can assimilate from feed eaten at the time. A cow that has stored a reserve supply of fat and other nutrients in her body before freshening can maintain a higher level of production during the time she is "milk-ing off" this store.

During the dry period it is important that a cow receive plenty of good leucine hay. It is a rich source of Vitamin B, the vitamin necessary for assimilation of calcium and phosphorus. During the dry period high-producing cows can most readily rebuild their supplies of these minerals, which have been greatly reduced during the flush of milk production.

Good hay and silage make a fine roughage combination for the dry period. Allow 20 to 25 pounds of silage daily and all the good hay a cow will eat. It is a good plan to feed more hay and a minimum of silage to cows having a tendency to caked udders.

A suitable grain mixture for dry cows consists of 100 pounds ground corn, hominy feed or ground barley; 100 pounds ground oats; 100 pounds wheat bran; and 50 to 100 pounds soybean oilmeal.

SECURITY Lies In The FOUNDATION

GREAT BRIDGES must have immense concrete and steel foundations—A financial institution must also have safe and secure foundations which are built and developed by HONEST DEALINGS and SOUND POLICIES plus the CONFIDENCE and GOOD WILL of the people it serves.

As eloquent proof of the secure foundation on which the New Castle Mutual rests, we point to the fact that for more than a half century this Association has served this Community WITHOUT THE LOSS OF A SINGLE DOLLAR to any investor or saver.

As an additional safeguard YOUR INDIVIDUAL INVESTMENT IS ABSOLUTELY GUARANTEED UP TO $5000. BY AN AGENCY OF THE UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT.

On Court House Hill

Work upon the indexing of the records of the office of the Prothonotary and Clerk of Courts will start on Monday morning, February 20. The work will require months to complete and will be done by the Russell Index Company.

Five new typewriters have been shipped in and are in the county commissioners' office. Five young women will be in on Monday to start the work.

The indexing system is a complex one and requires much time. The last time it was done was about 19 years ago. Recently Mr. Edgar asked the court to approve the request that it be done again and this was done.

Due to a short delivery date the Falconer Company of Baltimore has notified the county commissioners they are unable to accept the order for 500 tax duplicate sheets which was awarded to them several days ago at a price of $80.

The sheets were to be delivered on February 20 and the company found it impossible to do so. The bid was re-awarded Friday, this time to the Brindle Printing Company at a price of $102.

Before Judge Thomas W. Dickey Thursday afternoon the case of Walter Raub against the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania was taken up. The case is an appeal from the award of the Public Utility Commission in the matter of damages caused by the Edensburg viaduct.

There are several cases of a similar nature to be tried.

The dope now is that the annual banquet of the Bar Association will be on February 24 in the Field Club. The meat is always turkey due to some provision in "Wigmore on Evidence" or Blackstone. There has never been an appeal from the ruling although several times some attorneys have threatened a mandamus for a second helping.

If the world can find a way to avoid the tremendous expense of war, the next job is to discover some method of reducing the high cost of peace.

February 18.

Dear Brother Lion:
The special program committee, under the supervision of Harding Thayer, will present a program Tuesday which we know will be good. This committee always gives us something unusual.
Tuesday night, Past President Birch of the Lions International will be at the Fort Pitt. We want not less than ten members to attend this affair.

Very truly yours,
THOMAS I. ELLIOTT,
Secretary.

Rubin In 'Pink' For His Bout With Fulton

Several Other All-Star Scraps Listed For Monday In Arena

MEDWICK, ARKETT, BROOKS ON CARD

"I'm fit as a fiddle and ready to go," said Mickey Rubin, granite-jawed, heavy-fisted and hairy-chested light-heavyweight today in talking of his bout with Johnny Fulton, the flashy Pittsburgh colored 175-pounder, in The Arena, Monday night. Judging from appearances, Rubin is asserting the truth. In addition to this scrap seven other battles will be staged by the Jefferson A. C. starting at 8:30 p.m.

When Fulton and Rubin met in their first bout it looked like curtains for the local boy, who had been upset only previously by Dave Nemeth and according to some observers Mickey should have stored Nemeth away.

Fulton flopped Rubin twice to the floor in the first round and the local kid was a tired, forlorn-appearing athlete when he made his weary way to a corner.

Rubin called upon his wonderful recuperative powers during the minute's intermission between rounds, came back strong in the second and in the third stanza dropped Fulton and scored best in the belting.

During the last round one of Rubin's seconds stepped into the ring, and for a moment pandemonium reigned. However, Referee Tom McMahon permitted the fight to continue and when it was over Rubin was given the award.

Fulton asked for a return match and fadom supported his claim so fans who have been yearning for another spectacular duel will probably get it when the two lightweights enter the ring Monday night.

However, this bout, is not the only bout which should be productive of action galore. Andy Wertz, a good amateur from Youngstown, will make another appearance with Charlie Arnett, West Pittsburg, as his foe, at 138 pounds.

Arnett has been boxing as an amateur for several years. He knows a bag full of tricks. His worst difficulty until recently was lack of striking distance. Many of his well intended blows fanned the air.

Better, Truer Puncher
More recently he decided to improve his eye and has done much better. Instead of tossing long, wild swings, he shortened his punching and has won many supporters.

Arnett will need to be in the pink of condition and decidedly awake Monday night.

Can Rubin Repeat?
WILL FULTON UPSET 'MICK' MONDAY NITE?

Booster Cagers Try Iron Man Stunt Here On Sunday Afternoon

Frasermen Hope To Annex Double Triumph Against Aliquippa—California

Copying a baseball style which has been in effect for many years, the New Castle Boosters will play a double header in basketball, here on Sunday afternoon on The Arena hardwood.

The Frasermen have selected two toughest foes for their venture. The Aliquippa "Big Five" loaded with first class sphere handlers, is one of the opponents. As a chaser, the Boosters take on the California, Pa. Merchants. Recently, the Californians chalked up a victory over the locals. The Boosters hope to even the count.

Another attraction, at 2:15 o'clock brings together the Keystone and Ellwood City clubs.

Rambling Around World Of Sports

Local sport briefs—Tommy Leach's new gymnasium, on the diamond, is quite a mitt factory. Local amateurs give the neatly arranged gym a big play every day. . . . Mickey Rubin, carded to swap punches with Fulton here on Monday, Mickey Medwick, "Blackie" Ferrara, Chuck Arnett, Frankie Moran and the rest of the local simon pures go through their paces every day. . . . Union township's alumni is completing plans for a banquet honoring the Union high basketball and football teams. The date is April 27. . . .

Basketball passes the finish tape in New Castle, this week, as far as Class B. and New Castle high are concerned. Bessemer and New Wilmington line up in a twilight attraction, Wednesday night in Section 20 fray. The Red Hurricane closes the Section 3 fight with an engagement at Butler high. . . . The New Castle Boosters will try an iron man stunt, here Sunday, facing Aliquippa and California, Pa., in a twin bill. . . .

Hot baseball stuff—Columbia Lou Gehrig, the Yankee clubman, is taking quite a cut this year. His salary is between $33,000 and $35,000. . . . The 16 major league outfits are trucking along about 18,000 baseballs so the Gehrigs, Greenbergs, Medwicks, Mizes, Foxes and "umpire" other rocks can sharpen their hitting ability for the coming campaign. The pellets will cost the club owners about $35,000. . . . Wesley Ferrell, the handsome chucker who fell in the hands of the Yankees, is all set for action following that arm operation. Says Wesley: "For the first time in six years, I can finally use my normal windup". . . . New Yorkers have already set Zeke Bonura's goal. A mere 40 homers in '39. This shouldn't be hard in Polo Grounds. . . .

Sports cocktail—Boxing commissions do such funny things. For instance, three years ago the California commission black-balled a match between Jack Roper and a Charley Coates. Now this same august group has sanctioned a Roper-Louis atrocity which occurs on the anniversary of that earthquake. . . . Note to 1939 Notre Dame foes: Every member of the Irish first string backfield of last season is back. Thang, Sitko, Zontini and Sagau comprise the "back" in case you have forgotten. . . . That testimonial dinner to Jack Dempsey is worth $25 a plate. About 142 members of the honorary committee get in free. . . .

Odds and ends—About $180,000 in prizes will be split up among the winners of the American Bowling Congress in Cleveland, this year. . . . Jimmy Johnson, pilot of Bob (Bicycle) Pastor, is using all kinds of tactics in the hope of landing a title scrap with Joe Louis. His latest: At 61, he has challenged Jack Roper, to prove to the moguls that they're all wet when it comes to picking foes for the champ. . . . No-Hit Tommy Farr says he is engaged to a wealthy American co-ed from the social register. . . . Ralph Mitterling, Pitt baseball director, was formerly an outfielder with the Philadelphia Athletics. . . .

Bessemer high's basketball team kept in the fight for Section 20 honors by trouncing Union Township, Friday night at Bessemer. The final score, 28-10.

The Cement City passers garnered 11 points in the opening frame while their foes chalked up but two markers. By halftime, the Bessemer lads were well on their way to an important triumph. As the cagers left the floor at intermission time, the scoreboard showed an 18-5 margin for the Bessemerites. Union was limited to a lone point in the third stanza.

Archie Shoup led the attack for the winners, setting seven points. Zornich, DeArment and Craft accounted for four markers. Plich, Guz and Chialfallo bagged all of the Union scores.

The game of games occurs Wednesday night at New Wilmington when Bessemer ties up with New Wilmington. The tussle decides the sectional winners.

In last night's preliminary game, the Bessemer girls won a 23-16 verdict over the Union lassies.

Ellwood Tops Ambridge High In Last Game

Rubino, Ottaviano, Cunningham, Gentile, Marshall
Make Adieu In 40-30 Victory

ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 18.—Ellwood City High school basketball team write finis with a capital F to their scholastic hardwood record last evening when they ended their season in a blaze of glory by defeating Ambridge high 40-30 at Lincoln court to conclude their season games.

The Newton crew jumped to a 12-4 lead at the first quarter and they maintained about that margin all the way, although the Rubenstein lads turned in a better performance in the last half. Ellwood showed the same teamwork, and fighting ability that brought them victory in the last three games of the season and remembering that they started out as a new team at the beginning of the second half, local fans may well be proud of the splendid progress they have made.

A check-up of statistics shows that Ellwood had only one more basket than the visitors but for the first time, the Blue and White made a most impressive showing from the charity line and their margin of victory can be attributed to that fact alone. Gentile with 6 out of 9 field heaves made the most free points.

Paul Cunningham with 11 points led the Lincoln outfit to victory and he was followed closely by Ottaviano, Rubino and Gentile. Rubenstein used a great many substitutions in an effort to produce a winning combination. Kubec was high for the losers with 10 points.

It was the final performance for Rubino, Ottaviano, Cunningham, Gentile and Marshall.

Led by Uliniski who scored 16 points, the Ambridge Reserves topped Ellwood Reserves 34-30 in the preliminary game.

Topolski-Dombek Wedding Today At St. Agatha Church

Large Assemblage Of Guests Witnesses Ceremony Performed By Rev. Fr. Wilkey

ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 18.—Before a large assemblage of friends and relatives gathered in the St. Agatha Catholic church on Fifth street, Rev. Fr. R. D. Wilkey, using the impressive single ring ceremony, united in marriage this morning at 9 o'clock, Miss Cecelia Topolski, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Topolski of First avenue, and Walter J. Dombek, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Dombek of New Castle.

High mass was celebrated before an altar of palms, ferns and flowers enhanced with a glow of cathedral candles. Mrs. William Brophy presided at the organ.

The bride was very lovely in traditional white satin fashioned in the empire style with a high waistline with Alencon lace forming a Queen Anne collar and the skirt swirled into a circular train. She wore an illusion veil cascading from a tiara of tiny seed pearls. She carried an arm cluster of lilies and sweet peas.

Miss Mary Dombek, sister of the bridegroom, was the maid of honor and was attractive in a toe length gown of pink satin. She carried a lovely bouquet of roses.
